PLANT LIST

L. N. ROBERSON CO.

1540 East 102nd St.
SEATTLE 55,

Vermont 1189
WASHINGTON

Greetings, Customers!

OUR NURSERY offers the following as a means of letting the public know what type of plants we raise. Many names are omitted for lack of space but we will always be glad to have you write or call about other species which we may have in small quantities.

Visitors are always welcome but our small staff makes it impossible for someone to be available at all hours, so we suggest, for your convenience as well as ours, that you telephone first when planning a visit to us, especially when coming from any great distance. Closing time—4:30 P. M.; open Sundays by appointment only.

Mail orders are given prompt attention although shipping is limited to once or twice a week. Packing for shipment is gratis but PARCEL POST or EXPRESS charges are to be paid by the customer as is the RETAIL SALES TAX for Washington customers and these amounts should be included in your check or money order. No mail order under $2.00, please!

We attempt to name plants correctly but no guarantee is expressed or implied. Growing conditions affect plants so much that they may look entirely different in your garden than they did in the nursery. They leave us in good condition and should do well if properly grown. The very fact that our supply of a certain size or type of plant may be exhausted before the season passes makes it impossible to assure mail order customers that we can meet all demands so it is always advisable to state whether you wish a substitution or a refund in case we cannot fill the order as sent.

In order to give the most information possible in the least space, each plant name is followed by the color of the flower, ultimate height or height of blossom—whichever applies, and approximate time of flowering. All plants with the exception of "rooted cuttings" are ready to set out into the garden although different groups may vary in maturity. A dwarf shrub is comparatively young and small at three to five years while an herbaceous perennial should be divided and reset that often.

+ + +

NOTE: It is our intention to have printed a supplement to this list some time during the fall of 1948 or the spring of 1949. An entirely new list will not be prepared until the autumn of 1949, so we suggest that this one be kept for reference.

Rock Plants

A good rock garden demands special attention to the soil when planting. Sandy loam, peat moss and well rotted manure in equal portions provide a good base soil for general use. Plants with special requirements may have other ingredients added.

Be sure no air pockets are left when working with the soil, either when the rocks are set or when plants are put in. The plant roots should be firmed well at the time of transplanting and after any freezing weather which might cause them to be heaved from the ground. Such plants as dianthus and saxifrage profit from having the dead blossoms removed after flowering unless seed is desired.

Conifers

Sun and moist sandy soil suit the dwarf spruce (picea) and juniper best while the majority of the other conifers in this list prefer richer soils, more moisture, and as much sun. There are suitable forms for every location in the rock garden and, if you have never used these low growing shrubs, you have missed an opportunity for interest and accent.

In addition to the prices listed or where no price is given plants will be ready for late spring delivery at 50 cents each.

Rhododendrons, Camellias and Azaleas

Acid soil and plenty of water in late summer during the growing season will help to keep these choice shrubs in good health. To acidify neutral or alkaline soil use a pound of sulphur to 100 sq. ft. Dwarf rhododendrons and azaleas are particularly desirable for rock garden use since they are very slow growing.

Water Plants

A well planned pool will not only have water lilies, whose flowering season is short, but will contain bog and other water plants to lengthen the season of bloom and will also have some submerged oxygenating plants for the fish. Snails are good scavengers and will complete the balance of the water garden.
